MEYERS, LAMARRE
TO APPEAR JAN. 7

Two Involved In Perjury
Before Committee To Get Trials Soon

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 20—The government today set January 7 as a tentative date for bringing Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers and Bleriot H. Lamarre, a former business associate, into court on indictments charging perjury.

Both are accused of telling a false story to the senate investigating committee in its inquiry into Meyers' private business deals while he was deputy wartime purchasing chief for the Air Forces.

Include 3 Charges

The perjury counts a federal grand jury voted against Gen. Meyers yesterday charge that he falsely denied to the senate committee (1) that he had a financial interest in a Dayton, O., plane parts firm, (2) that the company bought him a new Cadillac automobile, and (3) that the firm paid $10,000 to redecorate his Washington apartment.

In addition, Meyers was charged with inducing Lamarre to testify falsely to the senate committee on all three points.

Lamarre told this senate committee later that his first story was false. He then proceeded to become a principal witness against Meyers.

The 36-year-old Lamarre was president of the Aviation Electric Co. of Dayton. But he said the firm was actually owned by Meyers and the general made him kick back all but about $50 a week of his $18,000 annual salary.

Commenting on the indictment last night at his home in Huntington, N. Y., Gen. Meyers said he had no statement to make "other than to say what I've said repeatedly—that I welcome any trial before any tribunal which will give me the right to cross-examine witnesses and to call witnesses on my own behalf."

George Morris Fay, U. S. attorney here, asked federal courts to set $2,000 bond for Meyers in New York and $1,000 bond for Lamarre at Dayton, to guarantee their appearance here January 7. Fay said the trial probably will start in mid-February.

Congressman Attack Idea
Of Making Blanket 4-
Year Arrangement

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 20—Sharp attacks from both Republican and Democratic ranks today forecast rough going for the four-year, $17,000,000 Marshall plan when congress comes back to work Jan. 6.

Republican leaders—excluding Senator Vandenberg of Michigan—apparently were lining up behind a proposal by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) that any formal pledge of European aid be limited to one year.

Taft wants congress to review the program annually and decide whether it should be continued. This found favor with at least one Democrat, Senator Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado, who told a reporter:

Opposed To Long Range Plan
"I am opposed to this congress committing future congresses. I doubt very much that we have enough surplus food supplies to permit us safely to export more than half of the amount the President requested during the next 15 months."

President Truman asked for a $6,300,000 outlay in the 15 months beginning April 1, when stop-gap relief for France, Italy and Austria will end.

There was some indication, the administration might be willing to retreat from the President's request for approval of a plan covering the full four years.

Senator Hatch (D-NM), a close personal friend of Truman and a strong supporter of the program, told a reporter that if a one-year commitment is the price for getting the economic aid underway, he would be willing to go along.

"I don't think it means too much whether we say we will have a four-year program or say that we will have a one-year program and then review the situation to decide our future course," the New Mexico senator said.

"Once embarked on the program, no congress will be willing to turn back from it."

But Rep. Arends (R-Ill.), house Republican whip, said he expects the program to be "shortened."

Senator Kern (R-Mo.) said flatly that "I shall be unable to follow the President further in this venture."

He would prefer, he said, to fix a single year's financial commitment to show that they are meeting and require nations receiving their own production targets yearly.

Senator Ball (R-Minn.), a member of the appropriations committee, told a reporter he thinks it would be "foolhardy" for the United States to commit itself to a $17,000,000 program. He added that this country "can't afford" to spend $6,800,000 on European aid in a 15-month period.

Aid To China Included In Stop-Gap Measure Passed By Congress

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 20—Congress today handed President Truman a $22,000,000 aid fund for France, Austria and Italy as the main fruit of a 33-day special session.

Along with it went a Republican-sponsored bill calling for voluntary measures by business and agriculture to combat cost of living increases at home while relieving want abroad.

The stopgap relief fund, approved just before adjournment last night, was $15,000,000 less than the administration wanted to buy food, fuel and fertilizer for the three European nations during the winter months.

Added China Aid

The appropriation bill carried, in addition to the European aid money, an $18,000,000 grant to China. The administration had made no such request but the senate decided to toss it in as a sign of support for Chiang Kai Shek's battle against the Chinese Communists.

In its final form the bill also provided $340,000,000 to meet occupation and relief costs for American forces in Germany, Japan and Korea, a compromise figure worked out by a house-senate conference committee.

The state and army departments had asked $490,000,000 for these purposes and the senate allowed the full amount. The house, which had voted a $280,000,000 cut, finally settled for one of $150,000,000.

There was one other major last-minute dispute between the two chambers. It was over the amount of wheat, flour and wheat products which must be retained in the United States on July 1, when the new crop year begins.

The house put this at 150,000,000 bushels over strong administration protests. The senate voted to let President Truman reduce the total to 125,000,000 bushels on March 1. The house figure finally was accepted by senate conferees.

Then Chairman Taft (R-NY) of the house appropriations committee hurried back to the house floor and won approval of the bill by a vote of 223 to 2. The senate accepted it on a voice vote.

Within a few moments—at 7:14 p. m.—the senate had passed an adjournment resolution. The house quit at 7:30 p. m., and the session which began Nov. 17 was over.

The regular session will begin next January 6, with main interest centered on the $17,000,000 Marshall plan for long range European recovery and a GOP bill to cut taxes $3,600,000,000 a year.

Settle Back Pay

AKRON, Dec. 20—Former Mayor Lee D. Schroy agreed yesterday to settle for $1,800 his $6,600 suit against the City of Akron for back pay. Common pleas Judge Frank H. Hayes said attorneys agreed Schroy was entitled to $3,000 for the difference in the charter-fixed salary of $7,000 a year and the $5,900 he received as mayor during the years 1939-42. Other office holders settled for 60 cents on a dollar, and Schroy agreed to do likewise, the judge said.

Part of the loot taken from the Waterford Village Inn Friday morning was recovered today by Sheriff George Hayes, it was announced. The theft preceded a fire in the tavern.

Joseph Costanzo, owner, estimated a loss of about $10,000 in the theft and fire damage.

Hayes said 16 bottles of whiskey and 25 cartons of cigarettes were recovered was a cache.

Evidence of arson is being investigated by the state fire marshal, who said traces of oil were found in the building, believed to have been used to promote the fire.

Proposes Plan To Help
Country Battle Its Economic Woes

By FRED J. ZUSY
WASHINGTON, Dec. 20—Rep. Frederick C. Smith, one of two Republicans in the house to vote against the party's anti-inflation bill yesterday, has his own ideas about stabilizing the country's economy.

A successful physician and surgeon and former mayor of his home town of Marion before coming to congress in 1938, Dr. Smith says that the GOP bill, sponsored by Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), and President Truman's anti-inflation program are "two of a kind."

"They'd both get us deeper into the economic mire," he told a reporter.

Here are the steps Smith would take if he were running things. He describes the program as "the only sensible one to pursue if we hope to get out of the trouble we are in:"

1. Cut the federal payroll from 1.5 present more than 2,000,000 employees to "not more than 800,000" and eliminate all "pork barrel and unnecessary legislation." These steps, he estimated would save at least $4,500,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 yearly.

Terms Marshall Plan a SSIart

2. "Dump the whole idea of a Marshall plan." A suggested expenditure of $20,000,000,000 in the next four years, he said, "would be just as added. 'We should give food to the hungry and starving people but nothing to the governments.' Anything to the governments will go only to promote a Communism and not stop it."

3. Do "something drastic" about cutting income taxes so as to provide funds "for the purchase of new tools of production." Taxes should be levied, Dr. Smith said, "in such a way so as not to interfere with capital production."

4. Abolish all government corporations such as the TVA, export-import bank and REC which are examples of outright Socialism.

5. Remove banking powers from the federal reserve system and return them to private banking.

6. Return to the gold standard. The nation "can never begin recovery," he said, "until it puts gold back into the market place."

Smith who said he votes "as I believe is right regardless of party," was one of 26 Republicans who opposed suspending the house rules for passage of the Wolcott bill.

"The party maneuver failed, running up against recalcitrant OOP members plus a solid block of Democrats."

Rep. Cliff Cleveland (R-Bryan), joined Smith in voting against the measure when it once again came before the house.

Offers Pour In To Take Italian
Girl Into American Homes

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 20—Twenty-one-year-old Maria Formicola can take her pick of a number of homes in America—if she wins her appeal of an immigration board's ruling barring her from this country.

The diminutive Italian miss arrived Thursday on the liner Vulcania only to learn that the ex-GI she had come to America to wed, James McInosh, 49, of Guernsey, Ky., had been killed in an auto accident a few hours before she sailed from Italy.

Yesterday, a special immigration board ordered the heartbroken Maria excluded from the U. S. because of the death of her fiancé and because "she has no present plans for marriage to any other such ex-member of the armed forces."

Quick offers of aid poured in on the bewildered girl.

In Fulton, N. Y., a wealthy contractor and liquor store owner and his wife offered to make a home for her "if that's what she wants."

"We don't know if our plans will work," the contractor, Thomas Venezia said, "but it is such a sad case we want to do anything we can to help."

Two Clevelanders who read of Maria's plight also offered their help.

"It would be a shame to send her back," said Mrs. Alfonso Lerro. "Our children are grown and we have plenty of room in our home for this girl."

Max Karlan offered to pay Maria's New York-Cleveland travel fare as well as give her a home.

"This girl had a tough break," he said. "I hope the authorities will consider her case before sending her back to Italy."

Distant relatives of the stranded miss, all living in the New York area, also said they would like to have her come and live with them.

And a young Yonkers, N. Y., music teacher, after seeing Maria's picture in the newspapers, was reported to have visited the immigration offices and offered to marry the girl.

An immigration official said Miss Formicola had appealed the exclusion ruling and declared the record of the case would be sent to the immigration commissioner at Philadelphia for review.

The Calculated Risk

In the President's recommendation for long-range European aid there is one important change from the plan as first advanced by Secretary Marshall.

The original proposal was to extend aid to all European nations regardless of political coloration. It wasn't a plan to halt Communism, for Russia would have been eligible to participate had Moscow so elected. Instead, the Russians withdrew behind their iron curtain, drawing Czechoslovakia and the other puppet states with them. It was only then that the Marshall plan came to be considered both as a recovery measure and an investment to curb totalitarian aggression.

Yet the Marshall plan is still predicted on a free interchange of goods across Europe, and expansion of the considerable trade that even now moved through the iron curtain. Without that trade and its substantial increase as Europe recovers, the 17 billions the President asks for would be pitifully inadequate.

Without the steel products of Czechoslovakia and the wheat of Hungary for Western Europe, the Marshall plan cost soars to astronomical proportions. Conversely, without the Ruhr coal and the other products of Western Europe, real recovery in the Russian puppet states is a mirage.

Even with Europe a bisected continent, a start toward recovery must be made, with the hope that time will have broken the European barrier by the time Marshall plan reaches its later phases. That's the calculated risk we are taking.

The Well-Oiled Rifle

Chicago's Dr. Robert M. Hutchins has taken a stand against universal military training. Addressing the National Council for the Prevention of War, he said: "Can universal military training prevent war?" The notion that large military forces preserve you from attack is as old as mankind. It is like the notion that wars will stop because they are so horrible. The fact is that large military forces merely stimulate other nations to build up their military forces.

In Tibet and Chinese Turkestan, the lone traveler who ventures forth on the trail unarmed is almost certain to be set upon by bandits. But if he goes forth with a well-oiled maulstick or a caliber .20 Springfield conspicuously displayed, he stands a good chance of proceeding unmolested.

In international affairs, the ethics of the Tibetan trails persist. That's the theory proponents of UMT go on. Like a rich, unarmed traveler, a rich, unarmed nation would soon be set upon by brigands. A trained army of UMT reserves would be the well-oiled rifle slung across our pack. The mere fact it was there probably would keep off marauders.

In the latter part of his speech, Dr. Hutchins viewed with alarm the deleterious effects of army life, the stunting of initiative, the preferential treatment accorded those qualifying for officer training. Those aspects of UMT are matter of opinion. The equally distinguished educators who served on the President's commission deemed the necessity for UMT outweighed whatever doubts they had along this line.

Until UMT's opponents come forward with some concrete suggestions for a national security plan, public opinion polls will continue to show substantial majorities in favor of UMT.

Capital Romance

It isn't often that romance blooms within the governor's mansion at Columbus, and even more unusual are the circumstances leading up to the engagement of Miss Mildred Stevenson and Governor Herbert.

Miss Stevenson, a physician's secretary, met the governor when he was undergoing treatment for a wound suffered as a World War I aviator.

Ohioans join in extending their best wishes to the betrothed couple.

This One Should Pass

Senator Fulbright of Arkansas has introduced a bill to repeal federal taxes on margarine. It is a bill that should be passed without delay, even though every creamery in Wisconsin be draped in black for the next five years.

The price spread between butter and margarine has become so great that they are no longer, in the strictest sense, competing products. Price is secondary with housewives who still buy butter at today's prices.

The repressive legislation, both state and federal, with which the production and sale of margarine is circumscribed is unfair and never should have been made law in the first place. The greater the difference in price between the two, the greater the pressure will be for its repeal.

Expanding College Facilities

The President's Commission on Higher Education has submitted a report designed to improve the nation's 1,700 colleges and professional schools. The proposals call for the overhauling of curricula, federal aid for scholarships and fellowships, and a general increase in facilities so that college enrollment eventually will be doubled. That would mean 32 of every 100 would go to college, instead of 16 as now.

Those who are qualified for college should be accorded every opportunity. By the same token, those who are temperamentally or intellectually unfit should have their capabilities analyzed and the most logical course pointed out for them. Today there are too many holders of college degrees who have been exposed to a foreign language but can't speak it; have studied Kant and Spinoza but have only a vague idea of what they wrote; have studied four years of English lit., but rarely get past the sports pages; have studied business administration, but might better have chosen a craft.

Modern life, with its increased leisure, places new demands and responsibilities on educators. If college educators are to be extended to twice as many, the cult of the white collar mustn't be exalted to the exclusion of technicians and skilled workers. Curricular revisions should insure that a college degree means that its holder has been more than merely exposed to the arts and sciences, and that his advanced study has equipped him to be more than a ribbon clerk.

The Stars Say

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Sunday, December 21

SUNDAY'S horoscope is a decidedly critical and challenging one, with a basis of the sudden, startling and unpredictable. It may prove dramatic and thrilling, yet a slight misjudgment or mistake might exact unpredictable penalties. Unforeseen and baffling events having far-reaching climax, call for poise, perfect composure, and restraint of the emotions and impulses.

For The Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of exciting and sudden events, with radical uprootings or changes, difficult to foresee or anticipate. Disruption and abrupt change may have long-range consequences; therefore all decisions should be based on profound and deep-seated values, and not grasped on foundations of the emotional erratic, temperamental. Be "slow but sure" before running head-on to a crisis. Physical dangers some times follow such astral indications. Keep poised and calm.

A child born on this day may be emotional, temperamental, and apt to jump at conclusions, which is a dangerous, impulsive, and unpredictable course of action. Rigid self-control should be inculcated, with reason and not emotion as being "in the saddle."

For Monday, December 22

MONDAY'S astrological forecast encourages an energetic attack on well-organized plans in the development of propositions and objectives of more than passing importance. Under a highly-stimulated and constructive plan of action there should be wise cooperation from superiors, elders and influential persons, with the idea of placing finances and security on a sound basis for future progress and good fortune. New endeavors for such benign purpose are under splendid auspices.

For The Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may look for a very constructive year in which new and important projects and plans are in line for the generous support and approbation from influential persons. Seek these well-organized and productive ideas sustained by hard work, determination, ingenuity and skill. Such plans should have far vision, with the determination to put the future and its fortunes on a solid foundation for long-range growth and expansion.

A child born on this day will have excellent creative energy and initiative for carving for itself a practical and enterprising career, winning support from high places.

SIXTY DEER IN COUNTY TAKEN

LISBON, Dec. 20.—The first open season on deer in Columbiana county closed Friday at 4 p. m. with approximately 60 deer taken during the three-day period when shotguns were permitted by the 620 men who secured licenses, Game Warden Lon W. Boring announced.

As is usually the case many hunters were disappointed in not being able to bag a deer, but the hunt was declared very successful by Boring in view of the fact there were no accidents, no stock shot and no arrests made for game violations.

Two more deer were reported in at the checking station by County Supt. of Schools W. E. Roberts, who bagged an 116-pound doe in Wayne township, and Don Huston, also of Lisbon, who brought in a 180-pound buck from Wayne township.

Others, who reported their "kill" to Game Warden Boring, were: Harold Hall, East Liverpool, a doe; William McGonigal, East Liverpool, Clyde Feight, Greenford, and Clifford Stone, Wellsville, each reported killing a buck.

Boring said it is probable there are others still unreported, which would run the total taken in the county to approximately 60. Only 16 were actually reported at the checking station here.

guests members of the club's 1948 executive committee.

Evergreen boughs were used profusely in the home decorations. In the living room red and green tones predominated in the artistic arrangements, which featured a nativity scene. On the mantel was a large arrangement of holiday greens, red apples and crystal grapes. Near the fireplace on a table was a white Madonna figurine set in greenery. The soft glow from red candles in silver holders lighted the scene.

Picturesque arrangements in the dining room emphasized a color scheme of chartreuse and gold.

The refreshment table, laid with a gold-colored lace cloth over satin chartreuse, was centered with a combination of osage oranges, pine cones, berries and candles, tinted in gold. On either side were gold birds. Antique silver service was used. The table piece matched the other arrangements in the room. Mrs. Burr Loeper presided at the table.

Plans for the club's 1948 activities were discussed.

Miss Thelma O'Neill, pianist, a guest, entertained with three solos, "To Spring" (Greg), "The Little White Donkey" (Ibert) and Gruber's arrangement of "Silent Night."

Paris Puts On Her Apron

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

PARIS—The apron is elevated to the living room by Parisian designers.

Schlaparelli, for one, dresses up simple afternoon frocks by tying on aprons made of bright woolen squares.

Here are two examples of the apron recast in its new style role.

At right, a park pink square of fringed Rodier wool, bordered in rose red, makes an apron for a chemise frock of black wool crepe. The apron is draped at the sides with little black bows.

Tomato Blight Remedies Discussed By Growers At Columbiana Meeting

Tomato blight, which has become a serious problem to growers in eastern Ohio, was discussed at length at a meeting of Columbiana and Mahoning county growers in the Columbiana city hall Thursday afternoon.

Alvin C. Moll of Ohio State university extension department, who had been engaged in western Ohio until the recent death of Mr. Tusig of the same department, was the speaker. The meeting was largely attended by growers.

Floyd C. Lower, Columbiana county extension agent, announced the annual meeting of the Columbiana, Mahoning and Portage county vegetable growers association, which will be held in Columbiana, Tuesday, March 2.

Assistant Extension Agent Hamitt of Mahoning county was also present at the meeting.

Inquiries by Lower developed the fact that the largest growers in the area have 12 to 15 acres in tomatoes, and that very few grow tomatoes exclusively. It was also developed that most of the tomato harvest goes to the fresh market, and comparatively little to packers and canners.

As between the two varieties of tomato blight, early and late, Mr. Moll dwelt chiefly on the late blight as the most serious. About one-third of the growers present have had to contend with it. One of the preventive precautions emphasized by Moll was the importance of keeping open the paths of air currents by making the rows six or more feet apart, depending on varieties of plants. When the extremities of the vines meet at maturity, or when there is any thick growth, he said, a situation is created favorable to the appearance of blight. Likewise a temperature drop to a 50 or 60-degree level. A space of 12 or 13 square feet for each plant, and even more for some varieties, was advocated as desirable.

The late blight may be communicated by potatoes, the speaker said, or it may be imported with shipped-in plants. A good spray was held to be superior to a dusting as a remedy.

Second Guessing

By DON E. BEATTIE
News Sports Editor

DEPARTMENT OF CONJECTURE

You can put it down in your book right this minute that Salem High school's 1948 football schedule will NOT include either Leetonia or Girard. This corner has stumbled across some information that points definitely to that solution to the scheduling problem that has had officials at the high school across the proverbial barrel for weeks.

High school officials won't say so yet, but you can take it right now that the two mentioned are being dropped.

The development is something that has come out of negotiations within the past week and the decision is made.

It's safe to speculate that Salem will have Cleveland Marshall Ravens (there), East Palestine Striders (there), Wellsville, East Liverpool and Lisbon back on the card next season.

All the games not otherwise indicated will be home affairs. One of two to be added to that list will also be a home game. The other will not.

It's also completely safe to guess that Canton, Timken will probably be one of the other two foes and that Salem will play that game at Canton's large and roomy Fawcett stadium next year.

The newcomer to the schedule is decided. It's a Youngstown school—possibly Rayen—and the game probably will be played at Reilly stadium. (Rayen has been seeking a game with Salem for several years and it seems logical that will be the new opponent.)

There's the latest on the football scheduling. It's not official yet, but take this corner's word that it's the next best thing to being sure.

OUT OF THE MAIL
While on the subject of football, it will be interesting to a lot of Salemites to know that Wilbur J. Springer, former coach and High school principal here, has followed Salem's progress closely since he left Salem eight years ago.

He writes that he reads The News sports page carefully every day and was pulling hard for Ben Barrett and the 1947 Quakers to equal his team's record of 10 wins, no losses and no ties back in 1939.

He recalls that the 1939 team surprised him. He says he never had any idea the team would turn out as good as it did when he started the season. The team, he recalls further, was taken to the Notre Dame-Carnegie Tech football game in Pittsburgh as a reward for the undefeated season.

In that great college game, in which the Irish were upset 25-8 by an underdog Carnegie Tech eleven, Captain Lloyd Voder of Salem and Ski Mefort of Lisbon starred for Tech.

Springer is now superintendent of schools at Bay Village, a prosperous suburban community just west of Cleveland on Lake Erie. The town now includes 6,500 people.

Springer's son Johnny, won honors at the High school this year as fullback and play caller on the T-formation. He was named All-Country fullback and twice won the Cleveland Press Star of the Week award this season. John, incidentally, is now six feet tall and weighs in at 170 pounds.

It's good to hear from an old time Salem Coach. Springer, who was a great athlete in his own right and did much to make Salem an athletic powerhouse in Ohio, coached the greatest Salem football team ever, the best basketball team ever and was instrumental in the formation and the progress of the Salem Night Relays—the greatest track event ever held in Salem.

ODDS AND ENDS
The football banquet Thursday was a success, but the vaudeville show was a bit out of place. Such should easily be omitted from future banquet programs. "Bo" McMillin missed his dinner here again, he arrived on the second section of a Chicago to Pittsburgh train, which was two hours late.

He did arrive, however, in time to talk as scheduled. It was as good as before, if not better.

Kogn Department Stores, a basketball team of Parma, is seeking a Class cage tilt in Salem. Write Carl Humber, 7068 Thornton road, Parma, 9, Ohio.

New York's Andy Varipapa has a right to that big grin. He won the All-Star bowling trophy he's holding by beating Joe Wilman 305-23 to 309-06 in Chicago.

BARONS LOSING GROUND IN HOCKEY

Drop 5-3 Decision to Lions Of Eastern Division In Friday Night Tilt

(By International News Service) Churchill Davidson Russell, New York Rangers left wing acquired by the Cleveland Barons, will break into the lineup tonight at the Barons seek to avenge last night's 5-3 loss to the Washington Lions.

The Barons lost ground in the Western division race of the American Hockey league by the loss to the Lions, lowly Eastern division contenders, in the only league tilt played last night.

With Russell, who the Barons obtained in trade for George Johnston, and Bob Currie, also acquired by the Barons this week, back in the lineup, the Cleveland lepers hope to take the growl out of the Lions tonight.

In yesterday's contest at Washington, the Barons pushed across one goal in the first period and two in the second but lost out when the Lions racked up two in the final period.

Pete Leswick slipped the puck into nets for two of the three Barons goals while Fred Thurier added the other. Johnny Carr-Harris racked up two tallies for the Lions.

In other American league games tonight, New Haven travels to Philadelphia, Providence invades Pittsburgh and Hershey goes to Springfield.

The Barons goes to Indianapolis tomorrow, Philadelphia to Buffalo, Hershey to New Haven, Washington to Providence and Pittsburgh to St. Louis.

Even Scoring Featured As Millermen Command Game From Start; Pager Gets 18

Salem High chalked up its third straight basketball victory Friday evening, 55-33, over Jack Cramb's Columbiana Clippers—but things were a wee bit different as the Quakers triumphed this time.

The difference this week was that Big Bob Pager, usually the dominating factor in Salem's offense, wasn't quite so all-important. The scoring, and it's an encouraging sign, was more evenly divided as Bob Miller's crew kept command of the tilt all the way.

Little Carl Ciccozzi, the red-topped forward, was on the beam again this week, dumping in some 12 points for second high of the night. His show was impressive again, making it two straight stellar nights for the Senior.

Ball-handler Tommy Miner, fast becoming the play-maker for the squad, clicked for nine points as he gave a short glimpse of his ability to hit from fairly well out on the court.

Pete Cain, used alternately with Ciccozzi and Eddie Bosich, came through neatly for eight points—all in the final frame. Bosich played a good defensive game and hit for five points.

Virg Kelly, probably the only local who could be classified as "off" last night, only scored three points. Pages, of course, managed 18 on seven baskets and four fouls, bringing his three-game average to 21 points.

But Salem's shooting accuracy again—as at Wellsville—was exceptional. Eying the hoop carefully and not wasting many, the Quakers edged 22 baskets in 63 attempts for a good 35 per cent. It was exactly the same percentage as in the Wellsville game.

Columbiana, on the other hand, meshed but 13 baskets in 56 tosses, a mark of 23 per cent.

Foul shooting was poor on both outfits' part. Salem hit only 11 in 23 tries.

Salem had some trouble with the Clippers throughout the first quarter, the score being knotted 8-8 with just three minutes remaining. By the close of the period, however, Salem had pulled into a 12-8 margin, on Pager's basket and four and Miner's free toss, and never lost command.

At the close of the half it was 24-14 Salem, and the lead jumped to 41-23 as the Quakers got hottest for 17 points. Cuts played part of the fourth for Salem, but with the varsity back in at the close, the locals had full command.

Cramb's outfit, despite the loss, proved speedy and able to move the ball with more agility than any team Salem has faced yet. The visitors started out in a zone defense but soon switched to a man-to-man, against which Salem began a bit green for a while. They began to break the man-to-man more frequently, however, in the third stanza.

The play of Howard Gustafson against Pager was excellent during the first half. He did the best job of stopping the big boy so far this year, but his most impressive show was on offense. He hooped four baskets against the lanky Salem lad in the first half.

Had Gustafson's fouls been less frequent, Columbiana might have "aved in the ball game longer. The Clipper-center shows a lot of promise for future Cramb encounters this year.

Salem is idle until next Saturday when Toledo Macomber appears here.

The loss Friday was Columbiana's second in six games.

NATIONAL LEAGUE DRAFT ANNOUNCED

(By Associated Press) PITTSBURGH, Dec. 20—The National Football league came out of an eight-hour draft session in the wee small hours today with the New York Giants, Boston Yanks, Washington Redskins, Philadelphia Eagles and the Chicago Bears claiming the chief prizes among the intercollegiate gridiron stars.

The Giants, given first pick because of their lowly status in the Eastern division, lost no time calling out the name of Tony (Skipper) Minis, the University of Pennsylvania's great runner and kicker.

The Yanks stepped in at the first roll call and grabbed Vaughn Mancha, fine Alabama center whom the Eagles would have liked very much to have in their fold.

The Redskins put the tab on another of the Crimson Tide in selecting Lowell Tew, 20-year-old 190-pound fullback. They got their greatest prize earlier in the day, however, when Richard McCann, general manager, confirmed the Skins had used a right gained in a special draw to pick Harry Gilmer of Alabama.

While the Eagles didn't announce their first choice, it was believed to have been Clyde (Smackover) Scott, former Navy back who has another year of eligibility left at Arkansas.

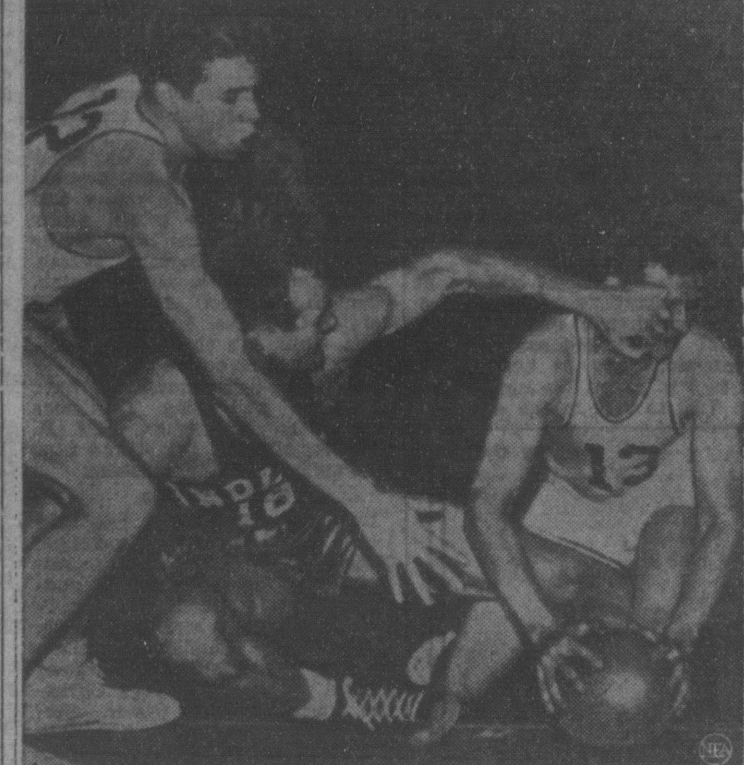

An unannounced switch in the draw landed Bobby Layne of Texas on the Chicago Bears' list.

Strikes to Spare
A 628 series by Bill Shepard led Mullins league bowlers Thursday night. He rolled games of 243, 212 and 173. Other top performances were Hobart, 550; Bill Tellow, 550; and Dick Albright, 548.

Grab-Bag

Indiana's Tom Schwartz, center, is playing a clawing game after making a futile grab for the ball, which is in possession of Kansas State's Lloyd Krone in a Kansas City contest in which the favored Hoosiers were upset, 61-53. Ward Clark of the Wildcats appears to be mouthing his disapproval.

Two Great Salem Teams Combined For Benefit Game Against Potter's

A direct comparison of the 1944-45 Salem High school basketball team—the highest scoring outfit in the school's history—and the 1946-47 East Liverpool Potters—the same team that wound up in the state Class A (finals) last year—will be brought about at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday at the East Liverpool Memorial gymnasium.

The comparison, one a lot of fans have wondered about, will be a benefit affair for the East Liverpool Junior Chamber of Commerce. The group is raising funds to purchase an iron lung for East Liverpool's City hospital.

Salem's star-studded aggregation actually combines the famous 44-45 aggregation and the graduates from last year's Quaker machine, which lost but one game in the regular season. That loss, incidentally, was handed to Salem by East Liverpool.

From the 1944-45 team are diminutive and flashy Jimmie Appedison, a fast break demon, rangy Walter Brian, one of the highest scorers in Salem history, Francis Lanney, who played with both the 44-45 and 46-47 teams, Charles "Mutt" Schaeffer, a six foot two edition of basketball genius, and Norm Smith, who rounded out the team which started Bob Miller on his coaching career in Salem.

Besides Lanney, Tony Martinelli, expert ball-handler and floor general from last season, and Jimmy Laughlin, starting guard, will be on hand for the tilt.

"Knobby" Greene, a varsity man from the 43-44 Herb Brown team, Ray Kelly, also a 44-45 starter, and Don Firth, a substitute in 44-45, will also be slated for action.

East Liverpool's veteran aggregation includes the first seven members of the 1946-47 team which nearly captured the state title. Besides that, Jim Harris, high scorer and All-Ohio cager the year before, will bless the roster. Harris recently left Ohio State, where he played varsity ball.

Walt Ashbaugh, Jim Cunningham, Jerry Hyder, Denzil Miller, Don Jackson, Dave Kinsey and Al-Len Bailey will make up the Liverpool squad.

All seven played last season. Salesmen can secure tickets for the game at the Recreation Billiards, or by calling 4585. Fifty reserved seats have been forwarded here for those interested in attending.

Hard Work
CUREPTO, Chile.—Baptizing is not always an easy task. Father Edward Brophy, a Maryknoll Missioner from Lexington, Kentucky, was performing baptisms following a parish mission. One 4-year-old, was reluctant to have water poured upon her. She set up a series of howls and several times tried to break out of the security. For awhile Father Brophy thought he would have to call in a rodeo performer to do a roping and tying job. Finally, the young lady was baptized. When the ceremony was over she rushed up to the priest, embraced him, and thanked him for making her "a child of God." Who said ladies never change their minds?

Men Agree Women Lead Harder Lives
NEW YORK—A woman's life is harder than a man's and, surprisingly, more males subscribe to that view than do women.

This is revealed by The American Magazine which says that a poll in three populous eastern states, New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey, showed 62 per cent think a woman has a harder life than a man. Twenty-five per cent believe the opposite to be true.

But the proportion who think a woman's life is harder was slightly higher among men than among women. Thirteen per cent think men and women have it equally as difficult.

Ray Davies Goes Wild Notches 20 Points In Breeze Game

Jack Mills' Blue Devils are back in victory trail. The Lisbon High cagers romped back to pleasant alley again Friday by trouncing Bud Dean's Leetonia Bears 60-38 in a one-sided romp in the roomy Leetonia court.

Lisbon sailed away at the start and never was in danger. The Blue Devils led 17-7 at the quarter, 28-6 at the half and 48-27 at the third frame.

Wily Davies thought he was back in a football suit Friday and went wild at the scoring angle. He tallied 20 points for his best night of the season.

Little Eddie Sullivan, apparently in off and on score, came to life Friday for 18 points for the Bears. He hit eight buckets.

Mills used his entire varsity in the tilt, his fourth victory in six games. Leetonia has lost three of four tries this season.

The Bear reserves took a 36-9 trouncing in the preliminary.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our dearly beloved mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mary Harriette Hoyle, who departed 2 years ago, on Dec. 20, 1945.

Two years have passed and gone, since one we loved so well was taken from our home on earth. With Jesus Christ to dwell, the flowers we place upon her grave, May whither and decay, But the love for her, who sleeps beneath, Shall never fade away. Sadly missed by children and grandchildren.

SEES 1948 "BOOM" IN U. S. INDUSTRIES

COLUMBUS, Dec. 20—State Securities Chief James F. Merkel predicted today that 1948 would be a "boom year" in the needs of industry for new capital.

But tax reforms are required, he added, to encourage the public to invest their money in American industry.

"In 1948 there will be an increased need for equity financing through the sale of stock offerings, but the public attitude is not right," Merkel told a press conference. "We need a return of faith. The public has been subjected to a continual barrage of fear which has tended to keep them from investing in market issues."

"With money rates tending higher," Merkel said, "more and more corporation financing will be done through the sale of stock issues rather than by debt financing through bonds or bank borrowing."

"Lowering of the federal capital gains tax," was advocated by Merkel as one means of improving the situation. He also urged "modification or elimination of the double taxation on dividends."

"Such tax reductions on behalf of shareholders," he declared, "would improve their attitude and would encourage others as well to invest part of their savings in the securities of American industry."

Governor Herbert Welcomes His Bride

COLUMBUS, Dec. 20—A slightly nervous news photographer welcomed Ohio's first-lady-to-be to the state capital last night several minutes ahead of Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, whom she will marry next month.

A train which arrived in Columbus' union station on a bit ahead of schedule foiled the state's chief executive in his plan to meet Miss Mildred Stevenson of Indianapolis as she stepped from the cars.

The governor's bride-to-be, escorted by the photographer, searched the station from rails to rotunda before she spotted Governor Herbert striding rapidly across the station.

It was a cordial but constrained meeting as news photographers crowded around and pilled the couple with their usual requests. "Let's get one of you kissing Miss Stevenson," one photographer cried. "Not for the papers, boys," the governor protested.

He later consented to grasp Miss Stevenson's gloved hands and smile proudly.

Ohio's 55-year-old governor will be married Jan. 3 in Miss Stevenson's home city, culmination of a romance which began in a doctor's office. Miss Stevenson was secretary to the governor's personal physician.
